

Do you prefer to be on or under the surfers ride?

THE OTHER SURFING MECCA

Do you know the story of Dick Zanuck and Peter Viertel, the two Americans shooting a film in the region of Biarritz in 1957 based on a Hemingway novel? They found the Basque waves to their liking, had their boards brought to them ... and soon found themselves being imitated by the future « Tonton surfers » of Biarritz. The Basque coast has some of the best surfing spots in Aquitaine, but it doesn't have exclusivity.

So, you'd rather look like a surfer than spend hours being tossed about by the waves?! No problem, adopt their dress code, cool outfits, a cheerful, laid-back vibe, a colourful look and a very friendly demeanour. You'll have to paddle hard and get out to the line-up before you can ride the wave. In Lacanau, in the Médoc, North Beach is a paradise for surfers. If you are part of the surfing tribe, each year, in August, this is "the place to be", where you can watch and meet the world's greatest surfers. Lacanau Pro is France's oldest surfing competition.
